

Effective Resumes, Cover Letters and LinkedIn Profiles

Resumes, cover letters and LinkedIn profiles are all highly personalized marketing tools used in applying to jobs, internships, scholarships, graduate schools, organizations, student and community groups.

Effective application materials involve communicating your skills, experiences, accomplishments and knowledge to convince organizations you are a highly skilled and qualified candidate. They reflect how your unique qualifications specifically match what the organization is seeking.

Resumes, cover letters and LinkedIn profiles should never be considered “one-size-fits-all” generic documents; customization is critical.

To help you get started, we have provided examples of resumes, a cover letter, action verbs, a reference sheet and a LinkedIn profile checklist to give you a competitive edge.

RESUME FORMAT

The following information is your guide to writing a quality resume. The most acceptable and readily used format for college students is the reverse chronological resume, with your most recent experience listed first. How you choose to construct your resume, in terms of style, is up to you. For example, placing dates on the left or right or whether your contact information should be centered or on the left-hand column is entirely your choice. Always remember that formatting consistency throughout your resume is critical.

CONTACT INFORMATION: Put your contact information at the top of your resume. It should include your name, phone number, email address and LinkedIn URL, if desired. Your street address is optional.

EDUCATION: List your degrees in reverse chronological order with the most recent degree first. You may also include relevant coursework to highlight specific skills and knowledge. If your GPA is 3.00 or above, list it in this section.

SKILLS: Highlight relevant skill sets (e.g., technology, languages, laboratory, video editing and statistical software).

EXPERIENCE: List your most recent experience first. Include internships, volunteer positions and part-time employment. Use action verbs to highlight accomplishments and skills.

LEADERSHIP AND ACTIVITIES: List leadership positions in university or community organizations. Highlight university and community activities, including community service, athletics (which could be a separate heading) or volunteer experience.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS: If you have specific academic projects that qualify you for the position, include them in their own section with details on what you accomplished through the project.

REFERENCES: References are not usually included on your resume unless an organization specifically requests them. A prepared list of 2-4 references should be printed on a separate sheet of paper that matches your resume format. Bring a hard copy (or multiple copies, if needed) of your resume and references with you to the interview.

OTHER HEADINGS: Choosing to highlight information such as interests (hobbies) and professional associations as separate headings is acceptable if relevant to the position. Personal information (e.g., religious and political affiliations) should be omitted unless relevant to the position.

RESUME CHECKLIST

- Makes clear, concise and positive impression in 30 seconds or less
- Does not include personal photo, unless specific for that industry
- No spelling, grammar or punctuation errors
- Consists of one page (more if writing a curriculum vitae/CV for an academic or research position)
- Organized, easy to read and has balance between content and white space
- Uses standard fonts such as Times New Roman, Arial, Century, Helvetica or Verdana in sizes 10, 11 or 12; do not use a font size smaller than size 10
- Highlights skills and accomplishments that match keywords found in the job description
- Quantifies accomplishments, if possible (e.g., amount of $ raised, # of people served and % of time saved)
- Does not have spaces between hyphens when writing dates; using hyphens confuses Applicant Tracking Software (e.g., USE August 2019-Present NOT August 2019 - Present)
- Utilizes accomplishment statements
 - FORMAT:
 - + Action verb stating what you did
 - + How you did it
 - + Result
- Cites relevant publications and presentations using the bibliographic style of your field
- NO GENERIC RESUMES!

 A typical first-year undergraduate student resume may include high school.

COVER LETTER FORMAT

Your resume is your marketing brochure. Your cover letter is a persuasive business introduction or “executive summary” to your resume. The purpose of a cover letter is to tie your experience directly to the job description. Look at the description and be sure the words relate directly to those in your cover letter and resume. If the employer is looking for teamwork, highlight a team experience in your resume and be sure to include a team-related accomplishment in your cover letter.

A Cover Letter should be:

- Concise: A cover letter should be three to four paragraphs. Any longer might lose the interest of the reader. We suggest the following format:
 - Opening paragraph: Four or five sentences maximum. Mention the position you are applying to/interested in, briefly introduce yourself, and indicate where you learned of the opportunity.
 - Body of letter: Usually one or two paragraphs. Share detailed examples of your qualifications for the position’s specific requirements. Many students choose to use one paragraph to discuss previous work experiences and another one to discuss academic experiences or leadership experience, etc. Choose whatever combination communicates your most relevant qualifications most effectively.
 - Closing: Three to four sentences maximum. Summarize your qualifications, restate your enthusiasm for the position and include your preferred contact information for the employer to follow up with you.
- Clear: Articulate your qualifications in words that mirror what the employer provided in the job description. Do not try to impress with a long list of accomplishments. This is the executive summary, not the resume.
- Convincing: An employer will make a decision on your candidacy based on the combined letter and resume package. You have to articulate the connection to the job description and sell your skills. This is a competition. Why should the employer hire you?

Cover Letter Checklist

- ☐ The words and action verbs in your cover letter should be reflective of the job description.
- ☐ Always be professional and use proper grammar.
- ☐ Check for spelling and punctuation errors.
- ☐ Know to whom the resume/cover letter package is going. Do not use “To Whom It May Concern” or “Dear Sir/Madam.” Address letter to a specific recruiter or hiring manager whenever possible.
- ☐ Use paragraph form, not bullet points.
- ☐ Do not copy and paste content from your resume to your cover letter.
- ☐ Do not be too forward in requesting an interview.
- ☐ Keep to one page (no more than three or four paragraphs).
- ☐ When emailing a recruiter or hiring manager directly, use the body of the email to write two to three sentences that introduce yourself and mention the position for which you are applying. Include your cover letter and resume as attachments. Do not cut and paste your cover letter into the body of the email.

Dear Ms. Annenberg:

Dear Ms. Annenberg: (or use full name if pronoun is uncertain)

It was great meeting you during the University of Southern California (USC) marketing panel on February 13. I am very interested in Focus Marketing's internship position advertised through the USC connectSC portal. I am a junior at USC majoring in Psychology and very excited about this opportunity to combine my skills in social media and marketing to customize services for Focus Marketing's clients.

As a leader and Marketing Chair of OUTreach, a USC community service organization, I coordinate and write articles for our weekly newsletter and maintain three social media pages, including Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. I increased our social media audience by 50% within 12 months by developing strategic partnerships across campus and customizing updates for each social media account daily. Part of my success is attributed to my passion for marketing our organization to the USC community. I am confident my high motivation level and strong social media and marketing skills make me an excellent match for this internship position.

I believe that creativity is a very important asset to successful product launches. Recently, I worked closely with four team members to propose a new product line of beverages during a marketing class. I designed a 3D product rendering, a print brochure and a social media ad using Photoshop. As part of the final project, our team presented the product line to a panel of marketing professionals. The panel ranked the project first place among eight groups nationally. Using my creative skills to benefit the Focus Marketing team would be a great experience in my future career as a Public Relations professional.

I am highly motivated to contribute my creative, social media and marketing skills through the internship. I look forward to discussing my qualifications with you in the near future. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Best regards,

Tiffany Traveler
